Making private healthcare affordable

With the NHS under increased pressure and employee wellbeing becoming a growing concern, offering private health cover as a benefit can go a long way to support employees, nurture a positive company culture and boost employee health and wellbeing.

Providing expensive, private medical insurance is often seen as the only option but can be out of reach for many businesses. That's why with Benenden Health you can take care of your employees health and wellbeing with quality, private healthcare for just £15.50 per person, per month.

Why choose Benenden Health

Benenden Health is different to private medical insurance. For starters, there are no exclusions to joining - all medical history disregarded and acceptance is guaranteed.

It's one price for everyone, and because all 850,000+ members pay the same, unlike insurance, the price won't change based on how often your employees use the benefits.

Having no excesses to pay or time restrictions on making a claim, also means Benenden Health membership is always available when your employees need it most.

Supporting your business

Benenden Health's simple and affordable approach makes it easy to roll out as a benefit across your business. There are no medical declarations needed, all you need to do is tell us who you'd like to join.

You'll even receive a dedicated account manager who can provide ongoing help and support to your business to ensure your employees continue to feel valued and rewarded.

With the Benenden Health App employees have a world of wellbeing at their fingertips and can access health and wellbeing services in and outside of the workplace.

Benenden Health supports the health and wellbeing needs of more than 850,000+ people and over 1,200 businesses across the UK.
